The Chair took the opportunity to give credit to the employees of the Kentucky Claims Commission, particularly the Crime Victims Compensation staff, for their hard work in catching up a backlog of CVC claims that had accumulated during the past administration due to a lack of funding, to Krista Locke, the Communications Director of the Public Protection Cabinet. The Chair stated to Ms. Locke that the employees behind the scenes in state government are seldom recognized for their hard work.

The Commission then recognized Lisa Robinson, Negligence Claims Clerk, on her last Claims Commission meeting and retirement from state government.
